

How-to Integrate software via API

Q: We are looking into integrating our software with Driver Tech via API. How can we get started?

A: The process is fairly simple to start a new integration.

1. We will send you the NDA and you will introduce us to the 3rd party company that would like to integrate and receive all your data.
2. After the NDA is signed, my engineering team will create the required credentials in order to access data.
3. We hold training sessions almost every week to allow new integration partners to get up to speed.
4. We also have a website for which we will allow access to the new 3rd party integration partner once the integration has started.
  - a. At this point the integration is setup and ready to go.
